IN THE ADEN HINTERLAND.

ary Club Lieut. Col. Bayard, D.S.O., of the Buffs Regiment, last night gave a leeture on " Eight months in the Aden Hinterland." 'The story was of some of the colonel's personal experiences in a little Britain in 1903 and 1904, and was told in a race and interesting manner. The Turks, the lecturer said, had a playful way of sending troops abroad and then forgetting all about them. No clothing and pay being sent them they had to live somehow, and so in this parti ular instance they had need up the resources of their own territory and capped into a resources of their own territory and capped into a resources of their own territory and capped into a resources of their own territory and capped into a resources of their own will depart from the COMPANY'S WING LOK STREET WHATER AND WILLIAM WILLIAM WING LOK STREET WHATER AND WILLIAM WILLIAM WILLIAM WING LOK STREET WHATER AND WING LOK STREET WHATER AND WILLIAM WILL known military expedition carried out by territory and came had advanced south and were gradually taking over the whole country with the result that a British expedition was sent up, not to drive them back but to negotiate with them and quickly ask them to get out (laughter). With any other nation than the Turks to deal with, the natter could have been settled in six weeks; it was have been settled in six weeks; it was have been settled in six weeks; it was been settled in six weeks; have been settled in six weeks; it was a simply a matter of defining the boundary; but this expedition started at the end of 1902, and did not finish until March 1904, and even then only half the boundary was delimited. Colonel Bayard went on to his amusing experiences, saying "the flying column" of which he had charge was about the slowest thing on earth—(laughter). The transport consisted of camels, whose average-speed was about two miles an hour In: the hostile territory he had a guide who was most useful because he did who was most useful occase he did not know the way—(laughter). Later when he wanted to go back he was told he was quite at liberty to do so. "Then," said the Colonel, "he wanted a chit to say he had manfally performed his duties"— (laughter). The only thing of commercial value he saw in the whole country was what was known as the camel's thorn tree. These thorns were six inches long and hedefied may man to break them. It would be a fine chance for a speculator to start a took-pick factory there—(hughter.) In spite of the hard character of the thorns the camels simply broke off a branch and Now Crowding the Shaltsbury Theatre, swallowed it whole, prickles and all ! The London. Arabs of the Aden Hinterland were absolutely the worst type of men he had ever met. They were deceitful, thicking liars and seemed to posess every vice. They could run about the hills like goats, but fortunately for the expedition they were very bad shots. The country was absolutely void of game save for a few pigeons. There were no less than seven different tribes in the lines of communication, and they all wanted to keep the fight going in order that they might continue to hire out camels to the British at an extortionate price. They once talked of combining against the expedition, but the British went for one of the tribes and very soon brought them to their senses.

Hangkong, 27th December 1904. Dear Sir, -In reply to your letter of 24th December, I have to inform you that competing clubs may bring their own boats only providing that they are clinker built, as I understand yours and? For Clubs that fined it inconvenient to bring their own, boats will be provided in Hougkong.

This letter was received in reply to an i enquiry from Canton as to the class of bonts to be used for the Hongkong Regatta (Hongkong Challenga Cup). ,

CANTON, February 24, 1910. FRANK LAMMIET Esq.,

The Hon. Secretary, The Hongkong Regatta, Hongkong. Dear Sir, -I beg to acknowledge your letter of 21st inst. with reference to the conditions under which your comittee propose that the Hengkong Challenge Cup shall henceforth be rowed.

The position my committee adopt in this matter is as follows.

On one occasion when the Canton Rowing Club competed for this cup, enquiry was made as to the type of boat that should by the Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong The TRANSFER BOOKS of the Come Bost Club, that a certain design of bost competed for the Challenge Cup. Last year, at which time we were holders of the Cup, when the heat question was raised, my committee deemed it advisable ANNUAL MEETING of SHARE- to ascertain the exact conditions under which the race was held, and a copy of the rules was asked for on March 15, 1909. No answer to this request was vouchsafed and nothing further superrened until the issue of this year of the Hongkong Regatta Programme, when it was observed that it 1909, Declaring a I ividend and electing a was stipulated that all four our races had to be rowed in the Cruickshank type of

It is noted; however, that in the Rules governing the race, Rule 3 states, that the boats used must be" similar in typeand construction." In this connexion I must draw your attention to the fact that at the first regatts, when the Canton Rowing Club competed for this cup, all the boats used were similar in type and design, and that the first departure from the design was made by the Hongkong Clubs in introducing first the Leux and subsequently the Cruickshank type, and the spirit of the original rules will be more faithfully observed by a reversion on your part to the Claspor, type than by the adoption of the Hongkong Clubs of the Cruickshank type. On the other hand, my Committee would point out that the phrase used in Rule 3 is similar and not identical, and they mainboats, though not identical, and that the Canton Rowing Club, the holders of the Cup which they have wen on more than one occasion in boats of the Clasper type (a tain that the boats used by the Canton Rowing Club are in fact similar in type and in construction to the Cruickshank type introduced at the suggestion of the MAKE NOTICE that under No. 5 of the Hongkong Boat Club and specifically allowed by previous Regatta Committees), are entitled, even under the rules now put for- such building within the WESTERN in their own boats.

As time is very preasing I have taken An early reply to this letter will greatly

KOWLOON-CANTON RAILWAY.

WE seem at last to be arriving at something like finality in the estimated section will be ready for cost of the British section of the Kowloon-Canton Railway. The first report the essentials are ready, with the drawn up by Mr E. S. Lindsey, the above, in order to work up the local newly appointed Chief Resident traffic and to transport material for Engineer (lent for two years by the Indian Railways) was presented to the It is impossible to fix a date at present meeting of the Hongkong Legislative Councilon Thursday, and it puts us in rolling stock to be ready so that it possession of figures which seem to in- earlier than July." clude everything that should be rightly included, so that the public can now get satisfactory, though it would be idle much the little bit of railway running with the completion of the railway we through British territory to the Chinese shall only be at the beginning of our frontier is likely to cost the Colony. It troubles as railway proprietors, if the is an old tale now how, the original experiences of the Nanking-Shanghai estimate of $8,003;642.63 drawn up in railway in the Titanic struggle with June, 1907 has expanded gradually by the tekin system of China count for odd millionsa year till the present round anything. sum has been reached. As Sir FREDERICK Lugano explained, for about the fifth time, the original estimate did not include the cost of workshops, relling stock, nor interest on capital, or loss by exchange. Indeed, in December, 1909, some of these items were still missing, so it is not surprising that the figures then presented, $9,617.499.22 have again expanded till at last we have robbery took place, the victims this time Wendt and Co. as a final estimate-to- date the imposing of $12,371,495.46. Railway estimates, like a hall of snow rolling down a hill-side, invariably increase so the public of Hongkong, all things considered, ought perhaps to be thankful that the bill is not going to be larger than present indications disclose. We must not forget that apart from the exceptional difficulties met with

THE ADMINISTRATION ACTION.

The Revealing of Public Documents.

The administration action which has been eccapying the attention of the Supreme Court since January 4, and which involves a num of from $30,000 to $1,000,000, was continued before Mr W. Rees Davies, Acting Chief Justice, at the Supreme Court to-day. The plaintiff is Li Chuk Hung, who, as administrator, sought to obtain from Li Pui Choi an account of the monies belonging to the estate of Li Kin Chei, deceased, which had been used by defendant in his business, and an account of the profits which had been made with the said monies. Plaintiff further claimed payment by defendant to plaintiff of such an amount as might be found to be due on taking such accounts. Sir Henry Berkeley, K. C., the Hon. Dr Ho Kni, and Mr. Eldon Potter, instructed | Susion Pana. - Distance I mile. by Mr P. W. Goldring and Mr Leo D'Almala e Castro, were for plaintiff, while defendant was represented by Mr M.

instructed by Mr Holborrow. Sir Honry Borkeley said that a question had arisen as to the right of the plaintiff to have certain avidence given by a public officer in that action with regard to state ments made to him in his official capacity The claim of privilege had been taken and they had been informed of that fact. They had also been informed that the offictaking the objection had been advised by the head of the department and that he would have his objection supported in argument by the Attorney General.

Hon. Mr F. A. Hazuland-I cannot claim the right to address the court ; I am simply here watching the case. I advised Mr Clementi to object to it.
The Chief Justice—There are cases that where a government officer objects to the production of a document on the ground that it is opposed to public interest the judge will not order its production. Continuing, Sir Henry Berkeley said that the statement of claim alleged that defendant's grandfather was a partner of the firm and the defence stated that the said individual never was a partner in the firm. be was a partner or not. He was calling Mr Glementi, who was at one time in the evidence as to statements made to him by the defendant on an application by the defendant to be naturalized as a Dritish subject, which would support the allegation in the statement of claim and negative the Bow-Sub.-Lt. Sir Henry Berkeley, said that he was prepared to argue the point upon principle with regard to the particular evidence which they wished to give. The statements were given in a private matter affecting the applicant only. The rule of law under which this privilege can be claimed only applied to communications of a public nature, or the communications of a semiprivate nature which affects the public service, and in order to sustain the pien of Crew. privilege it must be shown to the court limb the disclosure of the statements discredto be given in evidence would be injurious to the public service. Needless to say, Mr Taylor carried all before him in his matches at Singapore, although in each case he gave his opponent half of the games score. Mr Taylor, who, in addition to being North of England champion, is fancy stroke champion of the world, salled ab the office of the China Mail this morning. He told our representative that he was at present on a world tour. After leaving Hongkong he goes on to Shanghal, Kobe, Yokohama, Manila, Australia and New Zealand. He is auxious to arrange matches at the various Clubs in the Colony. The usual conditions were, he said, to give his opponent half the game score, and, at the conclusion of the match to give an exhibition of fancy strokes. gaked what was the biggest break he had ever made, Mr Taylor replied a modest

THE WORLD'S GOLD OUTPUT

The world's output of gold for [the pub year has been estimated by a writer in the monthly circular of the National City Bank of New York at not lessthan $450,000,000. The total for 1908 was $134,000,000. The writer believes that, if the present rate o increase continues three years longer, the total in 1912 will exceed $500,000,000 He goes further in saying there is every reason to expect that this incresse will continue for several years-to come," The mines of the Rand, for example, are estimated to contain sufficient quantities of gold to keep up their large contribution for "at least a quarter of a century." There is no indication of any decline in South African fields, where the conditions at present indicate increases rather than the contrary. South African mines are not subject to heat conditions which in many other mines imposea limit as to the depth at which they can be successfully worked. Physical conditions with them are such as to admit of successful operations to great depths, thus prolonging the period of their productivity. The writer adds that, taking the world as a 755 whole, "the outlook for a large and continuous production of gold is exceedingly favourable."

He presents some startling statistics as to gold production since the discovery of America. From 1492 until 1880 (a few years less than four conturies) the world's production is estimated to have been period of twenty-seven years, the production is estimated at almost as large a sum. namely, $6,020,925,000. The writer adds that popular impressions as to the uses to part of it is not used in coinage, -only about forty-five per cent. The remainder is employed in the arts and in hearding. the principal countries of Europe "have adopted measures to conserve as well as incresse their holdings."

The Japanese traveller, Mr Kawiguchi, who has published a book on Tibet, is now devoting himself to completing a long Central Rindu College, Benares, where he has been already a considerable time as student

A Pageant of South African history is to be held at the foot of Table Mountain in connection with the opening of the Union Parliament in South Africa' by the Prince of Wales in October. Mr Frank Lascelles, who is producing the Pageant of London, this summer, is to take charge.

The following note was published in the New York Times regarding a shipment of silk forwarded per the O.S.K. s.s. Tacoma Maru from Yokohama on the 1st January :- "A consignment of silk which arrived at Tacoma a wack ago Sunday was sent East over the Chicago, Milold St. Paul Line to Chicago and thence to New York, arriving in Jersey City in 2 hours less than 5 days. The silk got here before the bill of lading, which came by mail on the same steamer which brought the silk from Japan. The freight best the mails from coast to cosst."
